“John Gray’s Cleanse Retreat is a healing experience like no other! John shares his private ranch, nestled in the redwood hilltop on ancient Native American land in Fort Bragg, Mendocino for a 3-day cleanse of body, mind and spirit. Spa facilities overlook the magnificent Pacific ocean and include lithium and ozone-filtered hot-tubs; infrared saunas and steambaths to enhance the cleanse. In a cozy living room setting, with fire blazing in the hearth, John shares his wealth of information on nutrition and its impact on our bodies, as well as on relationship and communication, and explains how these affect our experience of ourselves and our relationships. As a practitioner in the health industry, I recommend John’s retreat to anyone interested in realizing their greatest health potential.”
